Good Afternoon:

The City has been working to update its Official Community Plan (OCP). The OCP was drafted last year and we are doing additional engagement this Spring before Council considers finalizing the plan.

The attached poster identifies how to access more information on the project and how to share ideas or provide feedback. Please feel free to share this poster. Every address in Duncan, including businesses, will receive the poster by mail as well. All project information can be found on our engagement website:

bigconversations.duncan.ca/OCP

We have a series of questions on the website that we are hoping all community members will take the time to complete. Anyone is also welcome to simply write to us with their ideas on the proposed new OCP or planning in Duncan in general (email OCP@duncan.ca or mail to 200 Craig Street, Duncan, BC V9L 1W3)

I would also like to extend an offer to meet with you to discuss the OCP if you wish. I have attached select policies on biodiversity, climate change, and servicing but would be happy to have your thoughts on any aspect of the OCP. In particular, I would like to know if you think we have missed anything or need to adjust policies from the perspective of the Cowichan Watershed Board.

I look forward to hearing from you.

Sincerely,

Kyle
